HEAD AND REFLECT.
The following bill was introduced by H. T. Kiddle, Representative from the Fourth District of Tennessee, February 28, 1876. It was read twice, referred to the Committee on the Judiciary, ordered to be printed, and can be taken up and passed whenever the Democracy get full control of the several branches of the Government.

A BILL
Directing compensation to be allowed for the use and occupation of property by the United States army during the late war.

It is enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress assembled, That the Secretary of War be, and he is hereby authorized to allow reasonable compensation to all citizens of the United States for the use and occupation of their property by the United States army, or any part thereof, during the late Civil War, in the same manner and under the same regulations as compensation is now allowed for Quartermaster's stores used by the army.

The foregoing bill and another introduced by Mr. Wilshire, of Arkansas, and equally sweeping in its provisions, are intended to embrace all claims for property or supplies of every character used or destroyed by the immense army of the Union, which during four years marched and encamped upon Southern soil. Their estimated aggregate are immense, $2,100,000,000. But the vast and ruinous schemes of plunder proposed under these bills are greatly increased by the aggregate of other schemes of like character— all proposed by the Confederate Democracy in the late session, and all for the benefit of disloyal persons debarred under our present laws from relief before the Southern Claims Commission—such as the bill of Mr. Seales, of North Carolina, [H. R. 3146], to refund to the disloyal States the direct tax collected under the act of August 5, 1861, amounting to $2,021,000; such as H. R. 322, proposing to the cotton planter the tax levied on raw cotton during the years 1865, 1866, and 1867, amounting to $68,672,088; such as the relief bills in special cases of one hundred and forty-one in number, introduced in the House at the last session, as the proposition of Mr. Johnston, of Virginia, covering the claims of two hundred and six citizens of Louisiana county, Virginia, and that of Mr. Merrimon, of North Carolina, in the Senate, for the repeal of section 3480 of the Revised Statutes for the benefit of claimants to sums accruing prior to April 13, 1861, but who forfeited their claims by their acts of rebellion, and all amounting to $2,131,497. Such as the bills to the extent of $200,000 introduced by the present West Virginia delegation in the House for payment for damage done to property, roads, churches, &c., in West Virginia. To recapitulate: Special relief bills— $2,021,000
Cotton planter bills— 68,672,088
Property and supplies destroyed or used, 2,100,000,000
Total— $2,131,497

Or in round numbers an amount equal to the national debt at the close of the rebellion. And these are but a moiety of what will awaken into life and content in the event of Tilden's election.

Religious Drift and Discussion.
It is true, as we read in a Boston letter to the New York Evangelist, that the majority of the New England Baptist ministers are for open communion, and are only waiting for a more convenient season to avow it.

A ceremony such as probably was never witnessed before in any age or country was performed, last Sunday week, at St. Stephen's Church, Philadelphia, where Henry W. St. John, a deaf mute, was ordained a deacon of the Episcopal Church. Several bishops took part in the solemn service. Concerning this ordination, Rev. Dr. Burgess, rector of Christ Church in this city, gives us the following interesting notice: "The item is correct, as respects our church, that of England, the Roman Catholic and the Greek. The apostolic canon forbade the ordination of those who were deaf or dumb, or who were incapable of doing the office of ministers." These canons are not regarded as binding upon men. But the policy of the church may be seen in them. I think the policy of the church was, that the words in baptism must be spoken to make the sacrament complete, and also the language used by the Lord at the Last Supper must be actually repeated, or there is no celebration of the Eucharist. The deaf mute had actually learned (after the usual mode of teaching) to say audibly these words, which I refer to. But Bishop Stevens of Pennsylvania, in a long sermon, maintained the right and propriety of his ordination to speak so much louder, as possible, that some one of the denomination may have admitted deaf mutes to ordination. Mr. St. John was especially well prepared, as is theological education goes.

The Presbyterians are putting the screw on another unhappy progressive sect in West. Rev. W. C. McCune, a member of the Cincinnati Presbytery, had uttered sentiments in favor of Christian action on broad "evangelical" grounds, and had taken part in organizing a church without any sectarian connection. Rev. Dr. Skinner forthwith began a paper persecution, of the style young Prof. Patton pursued against David S. May. He made such a noise that finally the presbytery took it up, had a special committee to examine the case, and on their report, and made Dr. Skinner chairman of the committee of prosecution. Now Mr. McCune protests vehemently against all these proceedings, and especially against the choice of Dr. Skinner for the position of chief prosecutor. He also sets forth his "objections" to the committee, that he believes that every church should extend fellowship to every Christian man, and every Christian minister, and to none other; and he agrees that this would exclude baptized children and include those who cannot be considered as members of it, but he has a protestant right to advocate any change in it. And as for Dr. Skinner's demand that Mr. McCune, shall give assurance in writing that he will not preach what he believes to be the truth of God—he denounces it as "popish, Presbyterian, as anti-Protestant, as unchristian and blasphemous." But, if Mr. McCune has got to this point, he might as well get out of the Presbytery, as Prof. Skinner did, and make no more fuss about it.

The Unitarian Review for October gives heroic treatment and a probing hand from several quarters to a very vital subject—Loyalty to the church or parish as a vital center of charities and Christian work. Dr. Rufus Ellis leads off with his address before the Saratoga convention advocating a "Concrete Christianity," which shall organize itself by the building force of love into human brotherhoods; "remember the poor" with something more than the empty-handed "Be ye warmed and clothed" of the church. A cable telegram from London reported Bismarck as having resolved upon declaring his independence, hence the war fever was revived on the Stock Exchange. Another cause for increasing the firmness of prices was the reports that the negotiations for the settlement of the railroad war had made such progress that the end was likely to be reached this week. Still another cause was the large receipts of grain at Chicago. In the final sales the market showed an advance of 1/2 to 2 percent from the lowest prices of the day. Hannibal & St. Joe. Cash advanced from 7 1/2 to 7 3/4; Pacific Mail from 2 1/2 to 2 3/4; Erie from 1 1/2 to 1 3/4; Northwestern common from 40 1/2 to 40 3/4; preferred from 62 1/2 to 63 1/4; Rock Island from 10 1/2 to 10 3/4; St. Paul & Northern Pacific from 2 1/2 to 2 3/4; Delaware & Western from 7 1/2 to 7 3/4; New Jersey Central from 30 1/2 to 31. Most of the stocks closed at the same level. The transactions were 125,000 shares, of which 4,500 were Pacific Mail, 21,000 Western Union, 11,000 Northwestern, 4,000 Rock Island, 17,000 St. Paul, 7,000 Erie, 38,000 Lake Shore, 4,500 Michigan Central, 5,000 Delaware & Western, and 4,000 New Jersey Central.
